Transformation of the Heart

Studies on Romans Chapters 1-8

Lesson 1

INTRODUCTION

The world is filled with confusion about spiritual truth. As human beings with spiritual natures, we seek to know a power greater than ourselves as well as the origins from which we came. We possess an instinct to worship someone or something. And we have a conscience sensitive to moral laws which informs us in how well we succeed or fail in obeying these laws. Our spiritual nature creates the need to understand spiritual truth.

Romans is a book that clarifies issues of spirituality. It explains our origins and declares the character of God, who rules the universe and alone is worthy of our worship. Romans makes clear how to know God personally and experience His strength to live a fulfilled life. It declares His great and sacrificial love for us and the power He provides for healthy, constructive and meaningful living.

One theme runs throughout the 66 books of the Bible--the theme of redemption. This is the means by which God brings mankind back into eternal relationship with Himself. Romans has been called the watershed of Scripture, because, of all the books of the Bible, it gives the most complete presentation of God's plan of redemption. Perhaps this is why the book of Romans is said to have been more instrumental than any other in changing lives and shaping today's western world.

Augustine, who lived in the 4th century and is regarded as one of the most influential leaders of the first thousand years of the Christian Church, was profoundly influenced by the Book of Romans. As a young man, he distressed his believing mother, Monica, as he wasted his brilliant mind and academic ability on immoral living and pagan philosophies. At age 30, he made a decision to trust his life to Jesus Christ after reading verses from Romans 13.

A thousand years later, Martin Luther, a monk and the son of a German coal miner, was tormented by his perspective of God as a terrifying judge. As he prepared to teach on the book of Romans at Wittenberg University, Luther was freed from his fear as he discovered that God's righteousness can be ours through our simple faith in Jesus Christ. Luther ushered in the Protestant Reformation, the greatest spiritual awakening the world has seen since the days of the apostles.

Others greatly influenced by Romans included John Wesley and John Bunyan. Wesley, an 18th century Anglican clergyman in England, entered the ministry after attending seminary and before he believed in Jesus Christ. Standing in a crowd of people listening to a preacher expounding on a portion of Romans, John Wesley was converted and became one of the strongest religious reformers the world has known. The Wesleyan revival swept England, breaking the back of corruption and transforming the nation as it gave birth to worldwide Methodism. John Bunyan, studying Romans in the Bedford jail, was moved to write Pilgrim's Progress, which has stood as a literary classic in the Christian world since the 1600's.

These are a few of the men touched by the book of Romans whose lives and teachings have shaped the western world. For them and for countless millions, Romans is a book that has brought freedom from spiritual confusion, unbelief and misconceptions of God. It has been called by some the most powerful human document ever written.

One can never study the book of Romans enough. No matter where we are on our spiritual journey, such a study can allow us to take great strides forward in spiritual understanding as it enlightens, uplifts and renews.

GREETINGS

Romans 1:1-17

It was around 56-58 A.D., about 30 years after the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus Christ when the Apostle Paul wrote his letter to the Romans. He had no idea that, under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, he was writing the most complete theological treatise ever written. He simply wrote out of genuine love for the believers in Rome.

Paul, or Saul of Tarsus, had once been a zealous Jewish religious leader devoted to persecuting and imprisoning Christians. One day on the road to Damascus, he was blinded by a bright light, and the confrontation that followed was with the Lord Jesus Christ himself, who charged Paul to take the gospel to the Gentile (non-Jewish) world (Acts 9).

Paul was faithful to that commission. Now, many years later, he had completed three missionary journeys across Asia Minor and Greece, establishing churches everywhere. He was staying in the Greek city of Corinth when he learned that Phoebe, a Greek believer, was going to Rome. Paul had always wanted to visit the church at Rome, which consisted of a number of groups meeting in homes around the city. These groups were probably established by converts under the great preaching of Peter on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2:10) and also by converts from Paul's ministry who had moved to Rome.

But Paul's visit to Rome must be delayed until after he delivered charitable offerings he had collected from the Gentile churches to help the poor in the church at Jerusalem. So Paul seized the opportunity to write and send by Phoebe a letter to help firmly establish the Roman believers in their faith and prepare them for his future hoped-for visit. As it turned out, imprisonment in Jerusalem and shipwreck would delay Paul's visit to Rome for several years.

Rome in Paul's day was hailed for its political importance as the capital of the Roman empire, as well as for its magnificent structures. Beautiful public buildings, aqueducts, baths, theaters and thoroughfares, along with extravagant all-night parties hosted by the ostentatious and vain young emperor Nero, made many view Rome as a superlative city. But others described Rome as "the sewer of the universe where all the scum from every corner of the empire gathered." Architecture and political pride stood beside "shame for staggering urban social problems not unlike those of cities today" (The NIV Study Bible, p.1702).

Paul writes out of love for those believers who endured the pressures of Roman residence and thrived in their faith even though they had received no apostolic teaching. In the seventeen-verse introduction to his letter to the Roman believers, Paul lays out the great theme of this document: the righteousness of God as seen in His dealings with man and as offered to any individual who believes in His Son, Jesus Christ.

Note: Righteousness is the state of being "in the right" in relation to God. Faith is believing and acting upon God's Word.

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

Choosing a Good Master

Paul was a man with one of the sharpest intellects of all time. Romans still stands as one of the greatest masterpieces of logic in literature. He was also "a Hebrew of Hebrews," probably able to proudly trace his genealogy back to Abraham on both paternal and maternal sides. Paul was born and educated in Tarsus, a great Greek university center. He was also a freeborn Roman citizen, a privilege shared by only one in five in his day.

These characteristics made Paul a part of three great cultures of his day. Yet he identified himself as a "slave of Jesus Christ." The six million slaves in the Roman Empire were seen as property, not persons.

But in loving devotion and total submission to Christ, Paul so introduced himself.

William Penn once said that either we shall be governed by God or ruled by tyrants. The truth is, we all serve some master. People devote themselves to acquiring material things or power or recognition or pleasure or some other self-gratification or cause. Whether we are conscious of our choice, we all choose our devotions and thereby our master.

Paul, for all the advantages afforded to him, chose Christ as his Master. As we begin our study of Romans, we will look at some "masters" that compete for our allegiance and what the Bible has to say about choosing our master.

1. a. What are some things we can easily place on the throne of our lives besides God? To what can we become enslaved?

Matthew 7:24-27

Deuteronomy 6:5

Micah 6:8

Proverbs 3:5-6

4. Why should we place the Lord on the throne of our lives according to the following?

Psalm 100:3,5

Psalm 18:30,32

5. What do we all seek which can only come from the Lord?

Isaiah 26:3

Isaiah 33:6

Psalm 112:1, 7-8

John 10:10b

6. According to Psalm 23, what blessings come when the Lord is our master Shepherd?

7. a. How did Paul compare his life before and after making Christ his master?

10. a. What does the Bible promise if you choose Jesus Christ as the Master of your life?

Matthew 11:28-30

b. What is your desire today?

LESSON 1 NOTES

1 apostle is one who is sent by authority with a commission. The apostles were Jesus' authorized agents or representatives. Sometimes the word is used more generally as messenger (cf. John 13:16). In the technical sense, it is used (1) of the Twelve (Mark 3:14)--in which sense it is also applied to Paul (Romans 1:1)--and (2) of a larger group including Barnabas (Acts 14:14), James the Lord's brother (Galatians 1:19), and possibly Andronicus and Junias (Romans 16:7).

2 gospel (1:1) means "the Good News." In the New Testament, the gospel refers to the message that Christ died for our sins, was buried, and rose again, and now is able to save all who trust Him (1 Corinthians 15:1-4). The gospel was promised in the Old Testament, beginning in Genesis 3:15, and touched on by Isaiah (Isaiah 1:18; 53; 55) and other prophets. Although promised by the prophets, they did not fully understand it (1 Peter 1:10-12). Jesus Christ, the Son of God, became a man, born of a Jewish virgin in the line of David as prophesied (Isaiah 7:14; Matthew 1:18-25). Through His substitutionary death and victorious resurrection, Christ is able to give victory over sin and eternal life to all who believe.

3 saints (1:7). The meaning of this word in the Greek is related to "holiness" or "sanctification." All Christians are saints and are sanctified in that they are positionally "set apart" to God and are experientially being made increasingly "holy" by the Holy Spirit.

4 first for the Jew (1:16). "Not only in time but also in privilege. 'Salvation is from the Jews' (John 4:22), and the Messiah was a Jew. The 'very words of God' (Romans 3:2), the covenants, law, temple worship, revelation of the divine glory, and Messianic prophecies came to them (Romans 9:3-5). These privileges, however, were not extended to the Jews because of their superior merit or because of God's partiality toward them. It was necessary that the invasion of this world by the gospel begin at a particular point with a particular people, who in turn were responsible to carry that gospel to the other nations." The NIV Study Bible, p. 1706.

5 salvation (1:16). Paul did not explain salvation here; he would thoroughly explain it in his letter. See gospel definition, note 2.

Lesson 2

MAN'S PREDICAMENT I

Romans 1:18-32

The believers in Rome woke daily to the rule of the young and unprincipled Emperor Nero. The inner city problems of Rome were horrible, but the elite experience was very different. While the market places of the city began to bustle with the common people, the handmaidens in sheer gowns in Nero's palace prepared oil baths in warm salt water pools for their mistresses. The afternoon brought gladiator shows or participant sports in huge gymnasiums with adjacent open baths.

Nero loved grand and extravagant entertainment, often hosting all-night parties at his palace. With pomp and childishness, he would flaunt his huge dining room ceiling that rained down flowers and perfume under the larger revolving roof perfectly synchronized with the heavens. Scantly-clad dancing girls entertained the guests as they drank from golden goblets, gorged and feasted, and, as passions rose, indulged in pleasures of all kinds until dawn.

In 64 A.D., six years after Paul sent his letter to the believers in Rome, Nero blamed the Christians for a fire that destroyed large areas of the city. The populace believed Nero caused the fire himself and stood aghast as the emperor carried out torture of Christian men, women and children in the arena (cf. Tacitus, Annals, 15.44).

Under the rule of this ungodly man, the believers in Rome could readily appreciate Paul's words describing such a person in Romans 1. Paul's letter began by explaining man's historical pattern that leads to such corruption. He declared that everyone is given the knowledge of God's existence and eternal power through the splendors of nature. Even so, men choose to "suppress the truth by their wickedness" and "neither glorify God nor give thanks to Him." This response to the Creator, Paul continues, brings God's wrath, a judgment manifested in God "giving over" man to his foolish thinking as he persists in "worshiping the creature rather than the Creator." The results lead to sexual perversion and a depraved mind given to practicing and promoting all kinds of destructive behavior.

Paul proclaims that the one who refuses to acknowledge God, ignoring the understanding God has given, sinks deeper and deeper into all kinds of wrong behavior. His life-style exhibits debasing passion and vile thinking. God's response is to allow man to suffer the consequences of his behavior.

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

Worship and Wholeness

According to the Bible, God made man in His image with the capacity to have a relationship with Him. For this reason, we feel incomplete until we know and worship our Creator. St. Augustine said centuries ago, "Thou hast made us for Thyself, O God, and our hearts are restless until they find their rest in Thee." Pascal, the French physicist, stated it this way: "There is a God-shaped vacuum in the heart of every man which only God can fill through His Son, Jesus Christ."

As we see in this lesson, instead of filling this vacuum by worshiping God, man prefers to go his own independent way. He exalts his own thinking and creates material objects of worship (1:22-23). While they meet no real need, they allow him to continue to do what he wants when he wants (against his God-given conscience). He becomes consumed by sexual passions and perversions and begins to "worship and serve created things rather than His Creator" (1:25).

The result of this cycle historically is the destruction of individual character (1:28-32) and the demise of entire societies. Not too many years would pass before the growing moral void in the great Roman Empire would lead to its extinction.

The fact that man's rejection of God immediately leads him into worshiping idols (material things) proves man's spiritual need to worship. Idolatry is the worship of images that is prevalent in societies around the world today. But in a broader sense, idolatry is the deifying of self and other created things rather than God (1:25; cf. Col.3:5).

In his book, The Pursuit of God, A. W. Tozer says, "Before the Lord God made man upon the earth He first prepared for him a world of useful and pleasant things for his sustenance and delight. In the Genesis account of the creation these are called simply 'things.' They were made for man's use, but they were meant always to be external to the man and subservient to him. In the deep heart of the man was a shrine where none but God was worthy to come. Within him was God; without, a thousand gifts which God had showered upon him....Our woes began when God was forced out of His central shrine and things were allowed to enter. Within the human heart, things have taken over. Men have now by nature no peace within their hearts, for God is crowned there no longer, but there in the moral dusk stubborn and aggressive usurpers fight among themselves for the first place on the throne....God's gifts now take the place of God, and the whole course of nature is upset by the monstrous substitution."

Man's deepest needs--to experience a relationship with God and receive from that relationship a lasting sense of security, self-worth and being loved--can only be met as we know and worship our Creator. The good news of Paul's letter to the Romans is that lasting wholeness--peace with God and ourselves--can be experienced. In this lesson, we will make some observations about the relationship between worship and personal wholeness.

1. a. What does man choose to worship rather than God as referenced in Romans 1:18-32?

b. Which of these are prevalent in our world today?

2. a. The first of the Ten Commandments states that we should have no other gods before God. The second is that we should not make or bow down to idols (cf. Exodus 20:3-4). What general results of misdirected worship is God seeking to spare us from, as seen in Romans 1:18-32?

b. How is idolatry contrasted with worship of God in the following passages?

Psalm 135:14-18

Isaiah 46:1-7

3. a. What are some reasons God is worthy of our praise?

1 Chronicles 29:11

Psalm 33:6-9

Psalm 113:4-6

Psalm 145:8-9

Psalm 146:7-9

John 3:16

b. When we worship the Lord, what needs are met through the resulting intimate relationship with Him?

Isaiah 1:18 (1 John 1:9)

Psalm 62:1-2

Philippians 4:6-7

James 1:5

Romans 8:31b,38-39

4. a. What is the call to worship found in Psalm 100?

b. What is the promise of Psalm 16:11?

Summary

5. a. What is idolatry, and to what does it lead?

b. What are the results of idolatry in our world today?

6. How can we detect, on a daily basis, what we are truly worshiping in our lives?

7. a. How would you define true worship of God?

b. What does the Bible promise true worship will bring about in your life?

c. What is the relationship between true worship and personal wholeness (defined as fulfillment or being at peace with God and self)?

LESSON 2 NOTES

1 wrath of God is being revealed (1:18). "Not a petulant, irrational burst of anger, such as humans often exhibit, but a holy, just revulsion against what is contrary to and opposes His holy nature and will. God's wrath is not limited to the end-time judgment of the wicked (1 Thessalonians 1:10; Revelation 19:15; 20:11-15). Here the wrath of God is his abandonment of the wicked to their sins (vv. 24-32)." The NIV Study Bible, p. 1707. See also, Note 2, Judgment Day, p. 28.

Lesson 3

MAN'S PREDICAMENT II

Romans 2:1-3:8

In the first three chapters of Romans, Paul creates a hypothetical courtroom scene. To this courtroom he brings three types of people before God, who is the righteous judge bound to administer justice and punish evil.

Chapter 1 exhibits the case of the pagan person who spurns the revelation of God around him. The prosecution proves his practice and promotion of evil. He is clearly guilty.

Chapter 2 states the case for the Jewish or Gentile moralist. This person thinks he is justified before God because he is better than the reprobate of Chapter 1. However, the prosecution points out that this person also violates the laws of God. Through his judgment of others, he demonstrates his ability to know right from wrong. Yet he is blind to his own faults of cheating, lying, gossiping and slandering others, harboring bitterness and other sins. By his own standard of judgment, the self-righteous Jew or Gentile stands guilty alongside the pagan.

Finally, Paul presents the case of the "religious" Jew who trusts in his ancestry and his knowledge of God's laws to justify Him before God. He sees himself as a guide to the sinners of the world, yet he neither trusts God nor obeys the laws he teaches. Paul declares that no Jew has ever received righteous standing before God because of lineage and circumcision, but only by obeying God from a heart of devotion.

Because the religious Jew fails to do this, he stands just as condemned as the pagan or Gentile to whom he finds himself spiritually superior.

Paul continues to reason from the standpoint of the religious Jew: "But if my sinful behavior shows how merciful and good God is, why am I not acquitted?" "God forbid!" says Paul. "If God reasoned that way He would judge no one." Paul continues, "You deserve God's righteous and impartial judgment, and will receive it."

Note: In addition to the NIV Bible, the Living Bible translation and study Bibles such as Life Application Bible or The NIV Study Bible can aid understanding of Romans.

Read Romans 2:1-11.

1. a. Why is the self-righteous person who stands in judgment of others also guilty (Romans 2:1,3)?

- b. Which of the sins in Romans 1:21,29-32 are common to even "moral" Jewish or Gentile people?

2. a. As stated before, "God's wrath is not an irrational burst of anger, such as humans often exhibit, but a holy, just revulsion against what is contrary to and opposes His holy nature and will."¹ There will be a final judgment where each person will be held accountable for their actions (Romans 2:5,16). Until then, God extends kindness, patience and tolerance toward mankind. The self-righteous person mistakes God's goodwill toward him as approval, but what is God really seeking to do (Romans 2:4; see also 2 Peter 3:9b)?

Note: Repentance is a sorrow for sin and turning to God with a resolve to live a life that pleases Him. Reference: Note 2, Judgment Day, p. 28.

b. What phrases describe the two kinds of people in Romans 2:7-8?

c. What will each receive from God (2:6, 9-10)?

Reference: Note 3, first for the Jew, p. 28.

d. What will be true of God in all His judgments (Romans 2:11)?

Read Romans 2:12-16.

3. a. From where does the Gentile receive the laws of God upon which he will be judged (Romans 2:14-15)?

b. In addition to these laws of conscience, the Jew has the benefit of receiving the written laws of God. For what will the Jew be held accountable (2:13)?

Read Romans 2:17-28.

4. a. List the things the "religious" Jew mistakenly depends on to make him right before God (2:17-20).

Reference: Note 4, the law, p. 28.

b. What renders the "religious" Jew guilty (2:21-24)?

5. a. Paul declares that circumcision, which marked the Jew as the recipient of God's promises to Abraham, is of no benefit if the one circumcised does not obey God from a heart of devotion. While the Jew sees his spiritual standing as far superior to that of the uncircumcised, what is really true (Romans 2:25-27)?

Reference: Note 5, Circumcision, p. 28.

b. Who is the true Jew in God's eyes (Romans 2:28-29)?

Read Romans 3:1-8.

6. In this epistle, Paul often raises rhetorical questions which his readers would likely ask. The Jew's perspective might be: "If we aren't automatically put right with God by being Jewish, what advantage is there in being a Jew?" How does Paul answer this question (3:2)?

7. Optional: The religious Jew also might ask: "Even though entrusted with God's promises and commands, what if some are unfaithful (as evidenced by the sinful conduct mentioned in 2:21-24)? Would God then be unfaithful to His promises to Abraham? How did Paul answer this question (Romans 3:4; cf. Titus 1:2; Deuteronomy 32:4)?

8. Optional: Some might even ask, "If my sinful behavior shows up how merciful and good God is, why am I not acquitted?" (3:5-7). How does Paul answer this question (3:6, 8c; see also last paragraph of commentary, p. 22)?

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

The Value of a Non-Judgmental Heart

The Jewish moralist was deceived in believing that his judgmental attitude about the pagan's sin made him righteous before God. However, Paul pointed out that a judgmental attitude involves pride, self-righteousness and a lack of compassion, all of which violate God's supreme laws of love and faith. Thus, the religious Jew was as guilty of sin before God as the pagan.

It is human nature to criticize others to make ourselves feel superior. We are prone to fiercely judge others, all the while feeling very superior to them. We can even be convinced we are acceptable before God because of our judgmental attitude toward people who oppose Him.

But far from making us righteous before God, a judgmental attitude reflects pride, arrogance, and a lack of love and compassion. These attitudes separate us from God and others and should point us to our need of God's salvation from our own sin.

The good news is that God wants to create a non-judgmental heart in us. In this lesson, we will look at the need to overcome judgmental attitudes and how we can allow God to give us a heart of wisdom and humility.

1. a. What are we instructed to do regarding defending what is right?

Romans 12:9

Deuteronomy 1:16

- b. What is the sure standard for distinguishing right from wrong according to Psalms 19:7-11?
 - 2. a. What is the difference between standing for right, or making fair judgments, and having a judgmental attitude toward people?
 - b. What negative attitudes often accompany a judgmental attitude toward others? How did a judgmental attitude affect the Jews of Paul's day?
 - c. How does a judgmental attitude affect our relationships with others and with God?
3. Why does God want us to have a non-judgmental spirit? How does a non-judgmental attitude affect our relationships with God and others?
4. What did Jesus teach regarding judgmental attitudes toward others?

Matthew 7:1-2

Matthew 7:4-5

Luke 18:10-14

5. a. It is easy to have a judgmental attitude toward one who has wronged us. Even though we have been hurt, what supernatural responses does God want to build into our lives for our good?

Romans 12:14,17a (Matthew 5:44)

Colossians 3:13

b. How did Jesus respond to those who wronged Him?

1 Peter 2:23

6. a. These responses are not natural to human nature. Only Jesus Christ can produce these responses in us. The Scriptures make clear that the strength to overcome evil with good can only come from Christ living His life in and through us. How do the following describe this experience?

Colossians 1:27b

John 14:23

b. How does this begin?

John 1:12 (speaking of Jesus Christ)

Revelations 3:20

c. What results when we receive Christ into our lives?

Ezekiel 36:26-27

Summary

7. How do you benefit from cultivating a non-judgmental attitude in your life? What is avoided and what is gained?

8. Are you struggling with a judgmental attitude toward someone? How do you want to respond to this situation?

9. Without Christ in control of our hearts, it is extremely difficult to overcome a judgmental attitude. Perhaps the following prayer in some way expresses the desire of your heart.

Lord Jesus, I need you. Thank you for dying on the cross to take the penalty for all the wrongs of my life, including my harsh judgments of others. Please take control of my life and give me a heart that pleases you. Amen.

LESSON 3 NOTES

1 The NIV Study Bible, p. 1707.

2 Judgment Day (cf. Romans 2:5,16). In the New Testament, judgment is one of the aspects of the coming of the kingdom of God. At that time, God will overthrow every resistance, both among evil spiritual powers (1 Corinthians 6:2-3) and also among men (Matthew 25:31-46). This judgment will affect all men, because all are responsible to God according to the grace that has been granted them (Matthew 11:20-24; Luke 12:17ff; Romans 2:12-16). This present world will be shaken and destroyed (Matthew 24:29,35), and a new world will replace the present one (2 Peter 3:13; Rev.21:1). God will entrust the administration of this final judgment to His Son at His appearance in glory (Matthew 3:11-12; John 5:22; Romans 2:16, etc.). The Zondervan Pictorial Study Bible, p. 460.

3 first for the Jew (Romans 2:9). "The statement first for the Jew, then for the Gentile (lit. Greek) does not imply special consideration for Jews. Instead, in the light of the divine standard of impartiality (God does not show favoritism), it emphasizes that the entire human race is dealt with by God." Walvoord & Zuck, The Bible Knowledge Commentary, New Testament, p. 445. See also Note 24, p. 11.

4 the law (Romans 2:17-27). The Old Testament Scriptures were given to Israel as prophets wrote under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. They held the righteous precepts of God which the nation of Israel was entrusted with in order to reveal the righteousness of God to the world.

5 Circumcision is the cutting off of the foreskin, a practice which originated in various western Semitic cultures as a religious act. The Hebrew rite was instituted by God as a sign of the covenant between Him and Abraham (Genesis 17:1-14). God commanded Abraham and all his household to be circumcised. The rite was required of every male Jew (descendant of Abraham) and any foreigner joining themselves to the Hebrew nation. This act assured the recipient of admittance to the fellowship of the covenant people and of a share in the promises of God to Israel. Circumcision metaphorically symbolized cutting away "pride and sinfulness of the heart" (Leviticus 26:41, Deuteronomy 10:16, Jeremiah 4:4, Acts 7:51). Because circumcision predated the Law, the heart attitude behind this act was first and foremost true faith in God.

Lesson 4

GOD'S GIFT OF RIGHTEOUSNESS

Romans 3:9-31

Paul declared the theme of his letter to the Romans as he wrote, "I am not ashamed of the gospel, because it is the power of God for the salvation of everyone who believes....For in the gospel a righteousness from God is revealed, a righteousness that is by faith from first to last, just as it is written: "The righteous will live by faith" (Romans 1:16-17). The rest of his letter would expound on these words, as we see clearly in Romans 3.

Paul began by proving every person's need for salvation (Romans 1:18-3:20). He created a hypothetical courtroom situation, bringing the three types of people one by one before God, the righteous judge. First he presents the pagan who rejected God altogether. Then he presents the self-righteous person (Jew and Gentile) who thought himself good because he condemned the ungodly behavior of the pagan. Finally Paul brings forward the religious Jew who relied on his Jewish heritage and his knowledge of God's laws to make him righteous. One by one, Paul clearly exposes each as guilty of breaking the laws given them by God, laws written on their consciences and, in the case of the Jew, recorded in the Old Testament.

Having clearly demonstrated man's predicament, Paul proceeded to explain the good news. God offers us a righteousness apart from keeping the laws perfectly, and He does so without violating His own righteous judgment. By sending His Son to take the death penalty for all sin, those who put faith in Him are made right with God as a gift.

God "freely by His grace" declares the one righteous who puts their trust in "the redemption that came by Christ Jesus" (3:24). This is true for both Gentile and Jew "through the same faith" in Jesus Christ (3:30).

Paul anticipated the question, "If we are justified by faith apart from observing the law, does this mean the believer no longer has to keep God's laws? "Not at all!" stated Paul, explaining that faith in Jesus Christ enables us to live a godly life (3:31).

Helpful Definitions:

Justification: God's declaration of a guilty sinner as "not guilty" on the basis of Christ's work received by faith.

Grace: God's undeserved favor toward those who believe in Christ's redemptive work on their behalf.

Redemption: God's purchase of man out of slavery to sin.

Propitiation: satisfaction of God's righteous demands.

Atonement: the sacrifice that satisfies the righteous wrath of God toward man's sin.

Remission: cancellation or pardon of a debt of sin.

Reconciliation: brought back into intimate relationship with God.

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

Receiving God's Free Gift

The Bible tells us that from the beginning, the penalty for going our own way apart from God has been death, or separation from a holy God (Genesis 2:4-17; 3). Feeling guilt and a spiritual vacuum, man has devised many ways to try to reconcile his relationship with his Creator. Manmade religions, trying to live a good life, ethics and philosophies, are all ways mankind in general has sought to address the spiritual void inside. Yet man still experiences the void created by his need to be right in his relationship with God.

The Bible says this is because no one, whether pagan, moralist or devoutly religious, can be right with God through his own efforts. The price cannot be paid by man, for "all have sinned..." (3:23), and "the wages of sin is death" (6:23).

The good news declared in Romans 3:24f is that God, motivated by His great love for us, has Himself paid the price for our relationship with Him to be restored. He came to earth in the person of His Son, Jesus Christ, and paid the penalty for our sin as He died on the cross. This payment allows us to be acquitted of guilt and to enter the presence of holy God once again.

Thus salvation is a gift purchased by God, absolutely free of charge to us! "The gift of God is eternal life in Jesus Christ our Lord" (6:23), and we are "justified freely by His grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus" (3:24).¹

Our part is to simply turn from going our own way apart from God and place our faith in Jesus Christ's provision for our sin. As we take this step of faith, Romans 3 declares, God not only pronounces us not guilty but also clothes us with Christ's perfect righteousness. One writer described it thus:

*Because the sinless Savior died
My guilty soul is counted free,
For God, the Just, is satisfied
To look on Him, and pardon me.*

Paul ends this chapter declaring that faith in Christ not only makes us right with God but also gives us a new heart. Changed on the inside, we are motivated and empowered to live by godly principles.

What good news! God's gift of salvation is free and as Isaiah said, "without money and without price" (Isaiah 55:1). As we continue our study of Transformation of the Heart, let's look more closely at the rewards of receiving God's free gift of salvation.

1. What mental, physical and social problems does man experience as a result of his choice to go his own independent way from God?

2. In what ways do people try to deal with guilt and fill the spiritual vacuum inside?

3. a. What continues to separate man from holy God according to these Old Testament passages?

Isaiah 53:6a

Isaiah 59:2

b. How does sinful man at best stand before a holy God?

Isaiah 64:6

4. a. How did the prophet Isaiah describe God's gift of redemption through Christ hundreds of years before His death?

Isaiah 53:4-6, 10-12

b. How are we made right with God according to Romans 3:22, 24-25?

Reference: Note 1, Why did Christ have to die in my place?, redemption, propitiation, p. 37.

c. What is the result of receiving God's gift of righteousness in Christ?

5. Romans 3:31 points to the fact that faith in Christ empowers us to live according to godly principles. Why does faith in Christ change our daily lives according to the following?

Ezekiel 36:26-27

2 Corinthians 5:17

Summary

6. a. How are we made right with God?
- b. Why did Christ have to die on the cross for us?
- c. What happens to our heart when we place our faith in Christ?

If you have never received Christ into your life and would like to do so now, the following is a suggested prayer:

Lord Jesus, I need you. Thank you for dying on the cross in my place to pay the penalty for the sins of my life. Thank you for forgiving my sins and giving me eternal life. Please take control of my life and make me the person you want me to be. Amen.

If you prayed that prayer, what is Christ's promise to you?

Revelation 3:20b

Hebrews 13:5b

7. Receiving Christ is a once-and-for-all decision that places us in the family of God eternally (1 John 5:14-15). But as a follower of Christ, we continue to find cleansing from sin, forgiveness, and a new start through the blood of Christ shed on the cross.

a. Are there specific sins troubling you today? What is God's promise?

1 John 1:9 (1 John 1:7b)

Note: Confession is simply agreeing with God about our sin.

LESSON 4 NOTES

1 "Why did Christ have to die in my place?" This is one of the most important yet least understood questions of the Christian faith. The following explanations of various biblical terms answer this question:

a. Propitiation is a biblical word meaning "satisfaction" and refers to the righteous demands of God being satisfied." God will not compromise His attributes of righteousness and justice which are legitimately outraged by man's deliberate violation of His will. But God's attribute of love motivated Him to provide a way to bring man back into fellowship with Himself without compromising His attributes of absolute righteousness and justice. God's holy character demanded that man's sin be paid for. Therefore, God came into the world in the person of His Son, Jesus Christ. Because Christ was born without sin and never committed an act of sin, He qualified to bear the holy wrath of God due the human race as He willingly died on the cross for our sin. In so doing He "satisfied" the just demands of God's holy character against man's sin. This act set God's love free to pour out grace on those who receive His gift of salvation. In this way, God is "just and the one who justifies the man who has faith in Jesus" (Romans 3:26). See d. Justification below.

b. Redemption is a biblical word meaning "to buy out" or "to set free by the payment of a price (ransom)" and refers to a slave being purchased out of slavery. Romans 3:24 says we are "justified freely by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus." As born sinners, we are in the slave market of sin, so to speak. But Christ, the only free man who ever lived (because He was sinless), paid the ransom price of His own blood to purchase sinners out of the slave market of sin and set them free to become sons of God. Only by the price of death can one be set free (Romans 6:23), and only one who is free (sinless as Christ was; cf. Hebrews 4:15; 2 Corinthians 5:21) can buy a slave's freedom. By paying the ransom price of His shed blood, Jesus purchased the person who puts faith in Him out of the slave market of sin and sets him free to become a son of God (Gal. 3:13; 1 Tim. 2:5-6; 1 Pet. 1:18-19; Gal 4:4-5).

c. Reconciliation means "to change a person from enmity to friendship." The Bible says that man is born at enmity with God. Sin erects a barrier between man and God because of a sense of guilt in man. This guilt puts him at odds with God. Reconciliation is the aspect of Christ's death on the cross which removed the barrier of man's sin and its consequences and thus took away guilt which caused enmity against God. Christ's death on the cross removed every barrier between a holy God and sinful man. Reconciliation is available to all men, no matter how sinful. While reconciliation is available and sufficient for everyone, only those who accept the gift of this reconciliation personally by faith receive it. "Therefore, since we have been justified through faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ" (Romans 5:1). "When we were God's enemies, we were reconciled to Him through the death of His Son" (Romans 5:10).

d. Justification refers to God declaring us "not guilty" and righteous in his sight, even though we are guilty of sin. God is able to do this because of the life and death of Jesus Christ acting as man's substitute. When God declares a person righteous in His sight, He does so on the basis of the life and death of the One who was acting on his behalf. "Jesus our Lord...was delivered over to death for our sins and was raised to life for our justification" (Romans 4:24-25). When we put faith in Jesus Christ to save us from sin, God declares us justified, or not guilty, and righteous. We are justified by the death of Christ which paid the penalty for our sin, and we are justified by the life of Christ whose life of righteousness is also credited to us. This justification, which is all by God's grace and received by faith, brings us into fellowship with God as a child in His family.

Lesson 5

RIGHTEOUSNESS BY FAITH

Romans 4

Paul's clear purposes in writing to the believers in Rome were to prepare them for his visit and to explain the gospel he would proclaim among them. A subtle third purpose was to address the conflict between Jewish (circumcised) and Gentile (uncircumcised) believers.

Judaizers, who insisted one must be circumcised and follow Jewish laws in addition to receiving Christ, had followed Paul from city to city throughout his ministry, confusing Jew and Gentile alike who placed their faith in Jesus Christ. It is not certain if the Judaizers had reached Rome before Paul, but clearly he sought to clarify for the Romans the concept of justification by faith apart from works.

First, Paul showed how both Jew and Gentile were guilty of transgressing God's laws (Romans 1:18-3:20). Then, he explained that God declares righteous the one who puts faith in His Son, Jesus Christ (Romans 3:21-26). Christ's righteousness is imputed (credited, transferred) to the believer in exchange for his unrighteousness imputed to Christ on the cross. The believer is justified with God because his sin was transferred to Christ and the righteousness of Christ transferred to him.

Finally, in Romans 3:27-31, Paul emphasized that we receive God's gift of righteousness by faith alone, not by works. Observing Jewish laws and rites, such as circumcision, is not required, although obedience to God is a natural outcome of true faith in Jesus Christ.

Now, in Romans 4, Paul proves from Old Testament Scripture that we are made right with God through faith alone. He uses the life Abraham, the father of Israel, to demonstrate that:

- (1) God justified Abraham because of his faith, not his works (4:2-3). "Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness."
- (2) God did not declare Abraham righteous because he observed religious rites such as circumcision, because the rite of circumcision was established years later (Romans 4:9-11).
- (3) God did not declare Abraham righteous because he kept Jewish laws because they were established centuries later (Romans 4:13-17).

Paul further explains that this makes Abraham not only the biological father of the Jews, but the spiritual father of Jew and Gentile alike whom God declares righteous because of their faith (4:12,18-24).

Helpful Definitions:

Justification: God's declaration of a guilty sinner as "not guilty" on the basis of Christ's work received by faith.
"Just-as-if-I'd never sinned."

See Note 1d, p. 38. Romans 4:25; 5:18.

Grace: God's undeserved favor toward those who believe in Christ's redemptive work on their behalf.

Redemption: God's purchase of man out of slavery to sin.
See Note 1b, p. 37. Romans 3:24; 8:23.

Propitiation: satisfaction of God's righteous demands.
See Note 1a, p. 37. Romans 3:25.

Atonement: the sacrifice that satisfies the righteous wrath of God toward man's sin. Romans 3:25.

Remission: cancellation or pardon of a debt of sin.

Reconciliation: brought back into intimate relationship with God.
See Note 1c, p. 38.

Review Romans 3:27-31 and Read Romans 4:1-17.

1. First, Paul shows that Abraham was not justified by works (4:2). On what basis did God cancel Abraham's sin and credit him with righteousness (4:3)?

2. How did David describe God's grace and justification as a gift in Psalm 32:1-2 (Romans 4:7-8).

3. Secondly, Paul shows Abraham was not justified by religious rite (circumcision). What does Paul point out about Abraham's circumcision (4:9-10)?

Note: Abraham was circumcised at least 13 years after being declared righteous by God because of his faith (cf. Genesis 15:6; 17:24).

4. Finally, Paul shows Abraham did not inherit the promise of God by obeying the laws of Moses because those laws came hundreds of years later. How did Abraham receive God's promises to him and his descendants (4:13,16a)?

Reference: Note 1, heir of the world, p. 47.

Notes: not through law (4:13). The promises of God are not merited or conditioned upon keeping the law. those who live by the law (4:14) refers to those who claim the promises of God based upon keeping the laws of God. Paul has shown this impossible (Romans 1:18-3:20).

Read Romans 4:18-25.

5. God had promised Abraham innumerable descendants through whom He would bring blessing to the world. But Abraham at 99 and his wife Sarah at 89 were still childless. Even so, what was Abraham's response (4:18-21)?

Note: Read Genesis 12:2-3; 15:4-6; 17:17-19; 18:10-14; 21:1-4 for a review of Abraham's story.

6. The Jew saw Abraham as the father of Israel. Whom does Paul declare Abraham the father of (Romans 4:11b-12, 16)?

7. Paul uses Abraham to prove God credits righteousness to the man or woman who trusts Him. What does God call us to believe today (4:24-25)?

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

Faith that Transforms

We are made right with God through faith, not works! Paul focuses on this biblical truth throughout his letter to Rome and especially in Romans 4.

Faith, or "trust in the Lord," is one of the fundamental principles of the Bible. There is no other way for a person to be right with God (Hebrews 11:6). "We can come to God without great intelligence, wealth, or high social standing...without rituals and ceremonies, priest or penance, but not without faith."³ Dr. W. H. Griffith Thomas put it, "Faith is our response to God's revelation; the link between God and man, and the channel of all divine blessings."

Faith is necessary to have a relationship with God, but that faith must be in what God asks us to believe, not in what we decide to believe. What does God require us to believe for faith that pleases Him? Biblical faith has two parts. First, we must understand and then believe completely what God has revealed in His Word about Himself, about Christ, and about us. But this is not all that faith involves, because even devils know and believe these things (James 2:19).

Biblical faith also involves a conscious decision to accept what God has done for us through Christ's work on the cross. This will lead to a deep trust in God and assurance that, "By His grace I am made right with God because of Christ; what Christ has accomplished applies to me." According to the Bible, faith that pleases God is centered in Jesus Christ and what He has done. Each believer is called to declare his faith in Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord (Romans 10:8-10).

The Bible also tells us that faith comes as a gift from God (Ephesians 2:8) given as we hear God's Word (Romans 10:17). The natural outcome of true faith in Christ is a life of loving service to Him as well as a life of peace and power from claiming the many promises of God's Word.

Thus, biblical faith affects our entire life and world view. As we continue our study of Transformation of the Heart, we will observe biblical faith, its benefits and its transforming power.

LESSON 5 NOTES

1 heir of the world (Romans 4:13). "World here refers to the creation, as in 1:20. No express mention of this heirship is made in the Genesis account of Abraham. He is promised "offspring like the dust of the earth" (Genesis 13:16) and possession of the land of Canaan (Genesis 12:7; 13:14-15; 15:7,18-21; 17:8), and that all the peoples on earth will be blessed through him (Genesis 12:3; 18:18) or his offspring (Genesis 22:18). But since, as Genesis already makes clear, God purposed through Abraham and his offspring to work out the destiny of the whole world, it was implicit in the promises to Abraham that he and his offspring would "inherit the earth" (see Psalm 37:9,11,22,29,34; Matthew 5:5). The full realization of this awaits the consummation of the Messianic kingdom at Christ's return." The NIV Study Bible, p. 1711.
Reference: Note 1, Second coming of Christ, p. 88.

2 Holy Spirit. God has made Himself known in the Bible as a Trinity; three divine persons with the same essence as God. The Holy Spirit, known as the Third Person of the Trinity, indwells every person who personally receives Christ (John 1:12; 14:16-17). The Scriptures reveal the Holy Spirit not as an "it," but rather as a "He," a distinct personality. In John 3, Jesus tells Nicodemus that the Holy Spirit is the member of the Trinity who brings about regeneration or spiritual birth in the believer. While the Holy Spirit cannot be seen, we can see the evidence of His work (John 3:8).

The Scriptures further tell us that when we ask God (Luke 11:13) to "fill" us with His Spirit (Ephesians 5:18b), He responds by supernaturally instructing and empowering us to live the Christian life (Ephesians 3:16-20; Ezekiel 36:26-27). Sometimes the Bible refers to this as "Christ in you," as in Colossians 1:27b.

Lesson 6

BLESSINGS IN CHRIST

Romans 5

Thus far in his letter to the believers at Rome, Paul has shown that sin has separated every person who has ever lived from God. But when God placed man's sin on Christ at the cross, Christ paid the death penalty for man's sin in full. When a person puts faith in Christ, God credits Christ's payment for sin to his account. Paul proved from the life of Abraham that it is faith in the revelation of God that makes us right with him, not our works. Abraham was not just the father of the Jews, but of those who accept Christ's work on the cross on their behalf and live by faith in Him.

With this said, Paul begins to write about the Christian experience, which holds much cause for rejoicing. The great blessings which come from personal faith in Jesus Christ include peace with God, grace to live a life that pleases God, and eternal life.

Paul ends Chapter 5 by contrasting the unbeliever, a descendant and heir of the first man, Adam, with the believer, descendant of Christ and heir to every spiritual blessing in Him. Adam brought sin and death to all mankind through His disobedience. But Jesus, through His death and resurrection, brings peace, restoration and life to all who place their faith in Him.

Helpful Definitions:

Justification: God's declaration of a guilty sinner as "not guilty" on the basis of Christ's work received by faith.

"Just-as-if-I'd never sinned." Note 1d, p. 38.

Grace: God's Riches At Christ's Expense. Grace either refers to:

a. God's undeserved favor toward those who believe in Christ, or b. The power God gives to live a godly life.

Redemption: God's purchase of man out of slavery to sin.

Rom. 3:24; 8:23; Note 1b, p. 37.

Propitiation: satisfaction of God's righteous demands.

Rom. 3:25; Note 1a, p. 37.

Atonement: the sacrifice that satisfies the righteous wrath of God toward man's sin. Rom. 3:25.

Remission: cancellation or pardon of a debt of sin.

Reconciliation: brought back into intimate relationship with God. Note 1c, p. 38.

Read Romans 5:1-11.

1. List the blessings given to those who are justified by faith in Jesus Christ (5:1-2).

Notes: access (5:2). Jesus ushers us into the presence of God (cf. Heb. 10:19-22). hope in the glory of God (5:2) refers to the Christian becoming what God made him to be before the fall of man recorded in Genesis 3. This happens through a heart transformation by the Holy Spirit (Col. 3:10; Ezek. 36:26-27) and a total transformation into Christ's likeness when we see Him (1 Jn. 3:2).

2. Paul also points to how God even uses suffering to bless the believer. What does suffering produce (5:3-5)?

3. How has God demonstrated His great love for us (5:8)?

Note: saved from God's wrath means spared on judgment day (see Note 2, Judgment Day, p. 28).

Reference: Note 1d, reconciliation, p. 38, and Helpful Definitions, p. 49.

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

The Peaceful Heart

Peace among individuals and nations is a major issue in our world today, as it has been in every generation of history. Personal peace is also difficult to obtain. In a high-tech world, we are continually bombarded with information, opportunities and demands. People have little time to reflect and often lose track of what is really important. Pressures strain and break relationships at home and in the workplace. The faith, hope and love we were made to thrive on escape us, and we have little peace.

God wants to restore peace to our lives. His gift in Jesus Christ is first peace with Him. Then He helps us find peace with ourselves and others and with the circumstances of life. God's peace is supernatural--it surpasses understanding. And His peace is protective--it guards our hearts and minds in Christ Jesus (Philippians 4:7).

"Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you." Jesus said. "I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid" (John 14:27). "You [Lord] will keep in perfect peace him whose mind is steadfast, because he trusts in you" (Isaiah 26:3). Let's take a closer look at the peace that comes through faith in Jesus.

1. a. What can destroy our peace as human beings?

b. What is man's sinful nature prone toward according to the following?

Psalm 120:6-7

Isaiah 59:8

2. What is the result of a lack of peace in the world around us?

3. According to Romans 5:1, how can we know peace with God?

4. Referring to question #5 above, what brings a lack of peace when we are without Christ ("in Adam")?

b. What brings peace when we are "in Christ"?

5. How do the following verses refer to Jesus Christ regarding peace?

Isaiah 9:6

Isaiah 53:5 (Colossians 1:20)

6. What are some benefits of God's peace?

Psalm 4:8

Proverbs 14:30a

Philippians 4:7

7. What is the source of peace that passes understanding in the heart of the Christian?

John 14:27 (Jesus speaking)

Galatians 5:22

8. a. Sin destroys peace, and when we lose our peace, sin is often present. How can we get God's help to identify sin (a definite act of disobedience) which has broken our peace?

Psalm 139:23-24

b. How can we restore peace with God?

1 John 1:9

Note: Confession involves agreeing with God about our sin and asking Him to help us change. It might be said that to confess means to: "Call it sin. Call it forgiven (on the cross). And call on God to change you."

9. God's Spirit often guides us by giving us a lack of peace about a certain direction. What does Colossians 3:15a instruct?

Note: When we sincerely desire to do God's will and lack peace about a certain direction, we should not move ahead.

10. What will God's Spirit lead us to do in relationship to other people?

Psalm 34:14

Romans 12:18

11. What do the following verses reveal about God's peace?

Isaiah 26:3

Isaiah 32:17

Summary

12. Why is faith in Jesus Christ necessary to experience complete and lasting inner peace?

13. How can the Holy Spirit use peace (or lack of peace) in our lives (Building on the Basics Question 7 and 8)?

14. a. Is there any sin you need to confess in order to restore God's peace in your heart?

b. What is His promise (Building on the Basics Question 8b)?

b. What is His promise as you ask His help (1 John 5:14-15)?

16. What are the benefits of God's peace in your life?

Note: God's peace continues as we trust and obey God's Word. The following bring encouragement and instruction:

When worried or fearful: Isaiah 41:10; Jeremiah 29:11

When confused: Proverbs 3:5-6; James 1:5

When feeling inadequate: 2 Corinthians 9:8

When fearing death: John 14:1-3; Psalm 23:4,6

LESSON 6 NOTES

1 hope does not disappoint us (5:5). "The believer's hope is not to be equated with unfounded optimism. On the contrary, it is the blessed assurance of our future destiny and is based on God's love, which is revealed to us by the Holy Spirit and objectively demonstrated to us in the death of Christ. Paul has moved from faith (v. 1) to hope (vv. 2:4-5) to love (v. 5; see 1 Corinthians 13:13)." The NIV Study Bible. p. 1712.

Lesson 7

IDENTIFICATION WITH CHRIST

Romans 6

Thus far in his letter to the believers at Rome, Paul has shown how the believer is set free from the penalty of sin by God's grace (Romans 3:23,26). In Romans 6-8, Paul explains how God's grace also sets the believer free from the power of sin.

Paul explains that the moment we place our faith in Jesus Christ, God places us into Christ, identifying us with Him in His death, burial and resurrection. This means that just as He died and left this life in which sin, guilt and death hold all captive, so the believer united with Christ in His death also dies to the power of sin in this world. Because we are also united with Christ in His resurrection, we are raised to live a totally new life in Christ in the presence of God. From our position in Christ, sin still seeks to control us, but we are no longer held captive by sin's power.

Our identification with Christ's death and resurrection therefore sets us free to live for God, giving us new power to say no to sin and yes to righteousness. But to appropriate this power over sin, we must first understand and then rely on our identification and union with Christ. Then we must continually choose to serve Christ and obey His leadership, drawing on His strength to resist the sin that still seeks to control us.

Paul uses the slavery common in that time to illustrate how ridiculous it would be to go back and serve a master from whom you had been set free. Sin is like an old master, but the more we see ourselves united with Jesus Christ and set free from slavery to sin to serve Him, the more God is able to produce the holiness and purity of His Son in us.

Repeated concepts in Romans 6:

- Sin results in death (Romans 6:16, 21, 23).
- Believers have been set free from sin (6:18, 22) and are no longer slaves to it (6:6, 20).
- Believers are "slaves to righteousness" (6:16, 18-19; cf. 13) have been given an inner drive to please God.
- Because they are alive to God (6:11) and have eternal life (6:23),
- Believers should present themselves to Him (6:13, 19) not letting sin master them (6:6, 11-14, 22).

Helpful Definitions:

Regeneration: the implanting of spiritual life in a believer.

Sanctification: God's gracious work in the believer to make him more and more like Jesus Christ in holiness and purity.

Read Romans 6:1-4.

1. a. In Romans 5:20, Paul spoke of the grace of God in Christ being infinitely greater than all our sin. What question about being justified by faith did Paul anticipate some would ask (Romans 6:1)?
- b. How did Paul answer this question (Romans 6:2)?

Note: died to sin (6:2) means set free from the power and bondage of sin.

Important Reference: Note 2, died to sin, p. 64.

c. What happens at the moment a person puts faith in Jesus Christ for salvation (Romans 6:3-4)?

Note: baptism (6:3) means to be placed into or identified with. See Note 1, baptism, p. 64. live a new life (6:4) means raised with Jesus Christ to new life in God's presence, forever set free from the power of sin and death.

2. a. The following diagram illustrates principles of identification with Christ. How would you summarize what this means in your life?

Read Romans 6:5-14.

3. What are the results of being united with Christ in his death (6:5-7)?

Note: Romans 6:6-7. old self: the person we are spiritually before receiving Christ. body of sin: figurative expression for self in its pre-Christian state, dominated by sin. freed from sin means set free from the bondage and power of sin.

4. Because God has united us with Christ in his resurrection, what is true of Him that is also true of us (6:8-10)?

5. a. What is the first step toward a believer experiencing victory over sin (Romans 6:11)?

Reference: Note 2, died to sin, p. 64.

b. In light of this, what choices should we as believers make (Romans 6:12-13, 19b)?

Note: parts of your body means all the separate capabilities of our being.

6. In Romans 6:14, Paul personifies sin as an enslaving power from which the Christian has been set free through identification with Christ. It makes no sense for the believer to serve this old master again. And the power to overcome sin cannot come from knowing and trying to keep moral laws, which reveal sin but have no power to set one free of sin's mastery.

Instead, the power to resist sin comes through God's grace and our being bound to Christ. What does God's grace accomplish in our lives that enables us to live a godly life?

Titus 2:11-12

Read Romans 6:15-23.

7. a. What two options do we have as believers (6:16)?

b. What had the believers in Rome chosen, for which Paul praised God (6:17-18)?

Note: form of teaching probably refers to the teachings of Christ which new converts in the early church received.

8. a. What "benefits" from slavery to sin did the Roman believers experience prior to conversion (Romans 6:20-21)?

b. What resulted from their union with Christ (6:22)?

c. How did Paul summarize this contrast in Romans 6:23?

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

The Transformed Heart

The wonderful news of Romans 6 is that through our identification with Christ, God gives us a new heart just like the heart of His Son. This new heart desires only to please God. It is totally dead to sin and absent from any desire to sin. If you have put your faith in Christ, this is the "real" you.

In her book, 31 Days of Praise, Ruth Myers described the battle and victory of the Christian life as follows:

Sin fights against the Holy Spirit within us for control of our bodies and our personalities. And sin is cagey. It masquerades as our master who deserves our loyalty. It poses as an essential part of us, pretending to be our true nature. . . if we yield to its demands or swallow its bait, it either dulls our consciences or plagues us with guilt, whipping us even after we confess to the Lord. In countless ways indwelling sin causes us distress, struggles, and defeats.

But from God's viewpoint, it is not our true, new self who sins, but sin that still lives in us (Romans 7:17, 20). Our sins spring from our old sinful tendencies that are no longer our true identity. The real you, the real me, hates sin and is aligned against it. The real you is distressed when sin prevails and longs for your whole personality to be conformed to the image of Christ. The real you is dead to sin and alive to God.³

If we do not realize who we are in Christ and see ourselves with a new heart just like His, we will constantly be angry with ourselves for our imperfections and lack of improvement. We will find ourselves defeated and guilt-laden. But God wants us to continually know that we are brand new in Christ, count on it being true, and yield our lives to Him to empower for His glory.

As we continue our study of Transformation of the Heart, let's take a closer look at the new and real you in Christ.

1. a. Review the Ruth Myers quote above. How does sin seek to control us (paragraph 1)?

b. What encouragement do you find in paragraph 2? How does this describe the new you in Christ?

c. Why is it important for you to see yourself this way?

2. How is identification with Christ referred to in the following verses?

John 14:19-20

2 Corinthians 5:17

Galatians 2:20a

Galatians 3:27

Ephesians 2:6

3. How is the transformation God works in us through our identification with Christ described in Ezekiel 36:26?

4. a. How does God see us in Christ, in spite of our imperfections?

Colossians 2:10

Note: fullness of God refers to God's image and glory.

Colossians 2:13b (Romans 8:1)

Colossians 3:12a

Ephesians 2:10

b. God does not want us to be burdened down with guilt. What is His desire as we abide in Christ?

Ephesians 3:17b-19

Summary

5. Why is it important to understand our identification with Christ in His death and resurrection?

6. a. Has this lesson helped you have a more positive perspective on yourself? If so, how?

b. How would you summarize who you are in Christ?

7. Jesus invites everyone to become one with Him. What open invitation does He give in Revelation 3:20?

The following prayer from Ruth Myers' book is a good one to cut out and pray daily as we seek to firmly grasp the powerful truths of Romans Chapter 6.3

"Thank you, Lord, that I have been crucified with Christ. It is no longer I who live, but Christ is living in me. And the life which I now (this moment) live in my body, I live by faith in your Son, who loved me and sacrificed Himself for me (Galatians 2:20). I yield my entire body to You, as an instrument of righteousness, to do Your will. Thank You that Christ has set me free from the condemnation of sin, and that His resurrected life in me is infinitely more powerful than the downward pull of sin!"

"Thank You, Lord, You are my sufficiency this moment, this hour, this day. I'm counting on Your life in me--Your love and patience, Your gentleness and guidance and power--to meet my needs and overflow to others."

LESSON 7 NOTES

1 baptism (6:3-4) here refers to the Christian's identification with, or immersion into, Christ's death and resurrection which renders the believer dead to sin (see Note 2 below). Jesus inaugurated baptism in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit (Matthew 28:19), and this baptism always quickly followed one's conversion in New Testament times (Acts 2:38). The action symbolized identification of the new believer with the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus (Romans 6:1-4); i.e. it depicted dying with Christ, being cleansed of and set free from the bonds of sin, and being raised to a new life in Him.

2 died to sin (6:2; dead to sin; 6:11). Death in the biblical sense means separation, as in the separation of body and spirit in physical death or separation from God because of sin ("the wages of sin is death," 6:23). Therefore, to be dead to sin means that "in our innermost being we have been separated from sin; sin is no longer our nature and we no longer need to let it be our master. According to Romans 7, sin still indwells us; the old sinful patterns and potential are still written in our minds and bodies. But we are to see ourselves in the light of the cross and the empty tomb. These stand within us as a powerful barrier between indwelling sinfulness and the new person we truly are in our innermost being. We're to let them serve as a powerful blockade, separating our new selves from what remains of our old sinful tendencies. The cross and the empty tomb form an immovable boundary between who we were and who we have become, between our former realm of sin and guilt and death and our new realm of righteousness and life." Ruth Myers, 31 Days of Praise, pp. 131-132.

Lesson 8

THE CHRISTIAN'S BATTLE WITH SIN

Romans 7

In the first five chapters of Romans, Paul explained how we are set free from the penalty of sin by God's grace (Romans 3:23,26). In Romans 6-8, Paul shows how it is also by God's grace we are set free from the power of sin.

In our own strength, we cannot resist the pulls of sin, but by God's grace, we can grow in purity and holiness. The power God gives to live the Christian life begins with the miracle of our identification with Christ, which Paul explained in Romans 6. The moment we receive Christ, we are identified with, or placed into, His death and resurrection. Having died with Christ, we are also raised with Him and set free from this world's bondage to sin and death to live a new life. We are given a heart like Christ's that desires to please God.

In this lesson's passage, Paul goes on to explain that our identification with Christ also sets us free from bondage to the law. The law brings bondage because it arouses the sinful nature which always wants to do what is forbidden. The sinful nature strives to be free from God's laws. But breaking the laws of God does not bring freedom, but condemnation leading to death and eternal separation from God.

Through identification with Christ, believers are set free from condemnation under the law. Identified with Christ in his death and resurrection, we are no longer under the law's judgment because Christ took the judgment for our sin on the cross. Not only this, but God has given us a new heart to obey Him (Ezekiel 36:26-27), and a new understanding that His laws are given for our good. The Spirit of God actually resides within us to empower us to overcome sin and live the Christian life (Romans 7:6).

So if our identification with Christ sets us free from bondage to sin and the law, why do Christians struggle with sin? Paul deals directly with this question regarding the believer's very real battle with disobedience. From his own experience, he discusses the losing battle of wanting with all your heart to do the right thing, but finding sin's pull too strong to resist.

Paul begins to address this issue by stating that the laws of God are not the cause of this problem. God's precepts are holy, good and right guidelines for constructive living. The law does not cause man's rebellious tendency to break God's laws. It simply exposes his inclination to disobey "precisely because God has said it is wrong." And the law does not cause man's death, although it is the standard by which man is proven guilty and deserving of eternal separation from a holy God.

No, the law is not the problem. The problem is a sin nature dwelling within each person, including the Christian. We struggle with sin because we have a fleshly nature which forcefully pushes us to disobey. The dilemma simply stated is that our real self, our new inner being positioned in Christ, loves God's laws and wholeheartedly wants to obey them. But a sin nature still resides in our flesh which refuses to serve God and pulls us toward serving sin.

Paul ends by stating that it is impossible to win the battle with sin in our own strength. But victory is possible, Paul declares, if we fight the battle from our position in Christ, with Christ at our side, and in His strength!

Read Romans 7:1-6.

1. Optional: In Romans 7:1-4, Paul declares that our identification with Christ's death has broken the law's authority over us (cf. Romans 6:2-7; also commentary paragraphs 2-4). He illustrates this through showing how a woman is no longer bound to the law of marriage when her husband dies. She is free to marry again. What can we conclude about the law (7:4)?

Note: died to the law (7:4) means to the law's power to condemn us.

2. a. What controls the unbeliever (7:5)?

Note: when we were controlled by the sinful nature or flesh (7:5) refers to the bondage to sin experienced before receiving Christ. death (7:5) means wrong living, separation from God, and physical death.

b. What are we set free to do because of our identification with Christ's death and resurrection (7:6)?

Note: released from the law means from its condemnation when we fail to keep it.

Important Reference: Note 3, released from the law (7:6), p. 72.

Read Romans 7:7-25.

3. a. How does Paul describe the law in Romans 7:12-13?

b. How does man's sinful nature respond to the law (7:8, 10-11)?

Note: For apart from the law, sin is dead (7:8) means without God's laws, sin is not fully perceived or identified. sin nature or sin (7:8) means everything in us which is more loyal to our old way of selfish living rather than to God. When we leave this body, we will finally be free of this fleshy nature. death (7:10-11): Paul is speaking of his pre-Christian experience here. See note under 2.a. above; also Romans 6:23a.

Important Reference: Note 1, sin...deceived me, p. 72.

4. a. How does Paul describe the struggle with the sin nature as a Christian (Romans 7:15, 16, 19)?

Reference: Note 2, Christian or non-Christian, p. 72.

- b. What explanation does he give for this problem (Romans 7:17-18, 20)?

Note: no longer I who do it (7:17). This is not a "sin made me do it" escape from responsibility, but rather a statement illustrating the great control sin can have over a Christian's life. Also, the real self is now the "new self" in Christ.

I myself (7:17) means the real self or inner being in Christ (cf. 7:22) which delights in God's law.

5. a. How does Paul sum up the conflict (Romans 7:21-23)?

- b. What solution to the problem did Paul introduce (Romans 7:24-25; cf. 7:6)?

Note: body of death (24) refers to the sin nature that hangs on like a corpse after receiving new life in Christ. Reference: Note 2, Holy Spirit, p. 47.

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

Abiding in Christ

Every Christian battles sin. Although in our innermost heart we have been changed to want to be holy, as long as we are in earthly bodies we still have a sinful nature. This old nature wants to do wrong, and even more so when it is denied or forbidden. But in Christ, we can "put to death" (Romans 8:13) the deeds of this sinful nature. Like an unruly child that needs consistent and firm discipline, the sinful nature can be controlled, but only as we abide in Christ. He alone is strong enough to deal with the power of sin as we stay united with Him.

In Romans 7, Paul describes the desperate feelings that come when we find ourselves defeated again and again. Every Christian has experienced these feelings many times. But God doesn't want us to live in defeat. Jesus came to give us abundant life (John 10:10b) and complete joy in Him (John 15:11). In our battles with sin, Christ wants to help us first see ourselves as we are in Him--holy and dearly loved--and to learn to fight the battles against sin with His strength, not our own.

Faith in Jesus Christ frees us from the penalty of our sin. We need not worry that we will be cut off from God when we fail or make mistakes. And faith in Christ also provides victory over the sin that seeks to dominate us. As we continue our study of Transformation of the Heart, we will look at how to experience this victory as we abide in Him.

1. To be victorious in the battle with sin as a Christian, we must first see ourselves correctly. What must we continually remember about our position in Christ?

Romans 6:18

Galatians 2:20 (2 Corinthians 5:17)

2. To draw on the power of Christ, we must continually stay united with Him. In John 15, Jesus compared Himself to a vine and the believer to a branch that must stay connected to the vine to thrive. What does Jesus tell us in John 15:4-5?

3. To abide in Christ means to depend on him and not ourselves. What is our source of strength to fight sin in our lives?

Colossians 1:27b

Ephesians 3:20

4. To abide in Christ means to stay yielded (in submission) to Him. What must we continually choose in order to experience victory over sin? Romans 6:13

Note: parts of our bodies refers to the different capabilities and areas of our lives.

5. a. To abide in Christ means to stay connected (or unified) with Him spiritually. One way we do this is through prayer, which is simply talking with God. What aspects of prayer mentioned in the following verses can help us in our battles with sin?

Psalm 62:8

Philippians 4:6

James 1:5

1 Peter 5:7

b. Abiding in Christ also involves seeking the wisdom and prayers of other believers. How can this support us in the battle against sin?

James 5:16

Matthew 18:19

Proverbs 12:15

6. How does reading God's Word give us Christ's wisdom as we face the battle with sin? Psalm 119:105, 130

7. The Christian's struggle with sin is ongoing in this life, but what is the outcome of the battle as we abide in Christ?

Romans 5:3-5

2 Corinthians 2:14

Summary

8. Why is it important to face the battle with sin seeing yourself as you are in Christ?

9. a. Why must we abide in Christ as we fight battles with sin?

b. What characterizes our lives if we are abiding in Christ?

10. a. Are there areas in your life where you are fighting the old sin nature right now?

b. What keys to winning this battle have you been reminded of in this lesson?

c. As you abide in Christ, what does He promise in the battle with sin according to 2 Chronicles 20:15b?

LESSON 8 NOTES

1 sin...deceived me (Romans 7:11-12). "Sin deceives people by misusing the law. The law was holy, expressing God's nature and will for people. In the Garden of Eden (Genesis 3), the serpent deceived Eve by taking her focus off the freedom she had and putting it on the one restriction God had made. Ever since then, we have all been rebels. Sin looks good to us precisely because God has said it is wrong. Instead of paying attention to his warnings, we use them as a "to do" list. When we are tempted to rebel, we need to look at the law from a wider perspective--in the light of God's grace and mercy. If we focus on his great love for us, we will understand that He only restricts us from actions and attitudes that ultimately will harm us." NIV Life Application Bible, p. 2040.

2 Christian or non-Christian in Romans 7:13-25? "Whether Paul is describing a Christian or non-Christian experience has been hotly debated through the centuries. That he is speaking of the non-Christian life is suggested by: (1) the use of phrases such as 'sold as a slave to sin' (v. 14), 'I know that nothing good lives in me' (v. 18) and 'What a wretched man I am!' (v. 24)--which do not seem to describe Christian experience; (2) the contrast between ch. 7 and ch. 8, making it difficult for the other view to be credible; (3) the problem of the value of conversion if one ends up in spiritual misery. In favor of the view that Paul is describing Christian experience are: (1) the use of the present tense throughout the passage; (2) Paul's humble opinion of himself (v. 18); (3) his high regard for God's law (vv. 14,16); (4) the location of this passage in the section of Romans where Paul is dealing with sanctification--the growth of the Christian in holiness." The NIV Study Bible, p. 1716. This study assumes the latter position.

3 released from the law (7:6). "Some people try to earn their way to God by keeping a set of rules (obeying the Ten Commandments, attending church faithfully, or doing good deeds), but all they earn for their efforts is frustration and discouragement. However, because of Christ's sacrifice, the way to God is already open, and we can become His children simply by putting our faith in Him. No longer trying to reach God by keeping rules, we can become more and more like Jesus as we live with Him day by day. Let the Holy Spirit turn your eyes away from your own performance and toward Jesus. He will free you to serve Him out of love and gratitude. This is living 'in the new way of the Spirit.'" NIV Life Application Bible, p. 2039.

Lesson 9

POWER FOR CHRISTIAN LIVING I

Romans 8:1-18

After depicting the struggling Christian who fails in his own strength to control his sinful nature (Romans 7), Paul now proclaims the supernatural power that God provides every believer for godly living.

Paul begins by stating that there is no condemnation for the believer because Christ took our condemnation on Himself on the cross. Because the believer has been identified with Christ in His death and resurrection, he has been forever set free from bondage to sin and death.

In the cross, the believer not only finds forgiveness for all his sins, but also receives God's power for overcoming sin on a daily basis. Paul explains that this power comes from the Holy Spirit,¹ who dwells in each person who puts faith in Jesus Christ.

The Christians Paul wrote to in Rome were familiar with the ministry of the Holy Spirit. Some had been present on the day of Pentecost in Jerusalem when Peter spoke with boldness and 3,000 people accepted Christ (Acts 2:5,10-12, 14-40, 41). That day, they had seen the Holy Spirit supernaturally enable people to hear the message of Christ in their own languages. Others in the church at Rome had seen and experienced the work of the Holy Spirit through Paul's ministry in Asia Minor and Greece. They recognized the supernatural power imparted by the Holy Spirit in a believer's life.

Paul goes on to explain other aspects of the Holy Spirit's work. The Spirit gives the Christian inward assurance of his adoption by God. As a dearly loved child, the believer can fearlessly and freely call God, "Abba, Father" meaning "Daddy." God's children are also heirs with God's Son, first to temporal suffering for righteousness in this world and then to immeasurable eternal glory with Christ.

The question left by Romans 7, "Is the Christian doomed to a life of defeat?" is answered in Romans 8 with a resounding "No!" Through the cross of Christ, God has provided everything we need to overcome sin and live for Him.

Helpful Definition:

Glorification: when the believer finally stands in God's presence "conformed to the likeness of His Son" (8:29) and with a new immortal body like His (1 Corinthians 15:42-44).

Read Romans 8:1-8.

1. a. What is the first assurance Paul gives the defeated and guilt-laden Christian described in Chapter 7 (8:1)?

b. Why is this true (8:2)?

Note: law of the Spirit of life means the controlling power of the Holy Spirit which sets us free to live a new life in Christ. See Note 2, Holy Spirit, p. 47.

2. To what end did God place our condemnation on His Son (8:4)?

Reference: Note 2, in the likeness of sinful man (8:3), p. 81, and Note 3, to be a sin offering (8:3), p. 81.

3. How does Paul contrast the person controlled by his sinful nature with the Spirit-controlled believer (8:5-8)?

Controlled by sinful nature: Controlled by the Holy Spirit

Read Romans 8:9-11.

4. How is the Holy Spirit related to every true Christian (Romans 8:9)?

Note: You...are controlled not by the sinful nature literally means "But you are not in the flesh but in the Spirit" This refers to identification with Christ and new life in Him.

5. a. How does Romans 8:10 describe the believer's body and spirit?

Note: your body is dead refers to the body of sin (See 7:24) which will die physically because of sin. your spirit is alive refers to our new spirit in Christ which is righteous and will live forever.

b. What will the indwelling Spirit of God eventually bring (8:11)?

Note: give life to your mortal bodies refers to the new resurrection body we will be given by the indwelling Holy Spirit. See Helpful Definition: Glorification, p. 74.

c. How does 1 Corinthians 6:14 confirm or restate this promise?

Read Romans 8:12-17.

6. In light of God's blessings in Christ, how should the believer live (Romans 8:12-13)?

Note: put to death the misdeeds of the body (8:13) means to regard as dead the power of sin in your body (cf. 6:11; Galatians 5:24), and by the Holy Spirit's power put to death the sins of your former life (Eph 4:22-31; Col. 3:5-10).

7. a. What confidences does the indwelling Holy Spirit give to the believer (8:14-16)?

b. What will the believer experience as a co-heir with Christ (8:17)?

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

Following the Spirit

In Romans 7, Paul described the struggle and defeat of the Christian who battles his old sin nature in his own strength. Now in Romans 8, Paul shows the way to victory in this battle. He begins by emphatically stating that there is "no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus" (8:1). This is because of the believer's identification with Christ in His death and resurrection (Romans 6). This baptism into Christ performed by the Holy Spirit (6:3-4; 8:2) allows God to see the believer as "in Christ," whose death on the cross paid the penalty for every sin the believer will ever commit. Therefore, we will never again be eternally condemned when we fail in the battle against sin.

Then Paul focuses on the ministry of the Holy Spirit in the life of the Christian. The word Christian means "Christ in one," and Jesus promised he would send the Holy Spirit, or Spirit of Christ, to indwell each believer's heart (John 14:16-17). It is the Holy Spirit who produces the life of Christ in us, enabling us to unselfishly and joyfully serve God and others. Romans 8:6,13 tell us that as we choose to let the Spirit control our minds, He empowers us to defeat, or "put to death, the misdeeds" of the old sin nature.

Because the Holy Spirit is the source of power in the Christian's life, it is important to know who He is. Throughout Scripture, the Holy Spirit is revealed along with the Father and the Son as a full and distinct person of the Godhead. As a divine Person, the Holy Spirit is eternal, everywhere present, almighty, perfectly wise, perfectly just and perfectly good (Hebrews 9:14, Psalm 139:7-10, 1 Corinthians 2:10-11).

The Holy Spirit's distinct role is the Sanctifier who frees us to lead new lives in Christ (2 Corinthians 3:17). It is the Holy Spirit who leads us to spiritual rebirth, brings Christ's presence to us, keeps us in touch with God, makes us realize God's love, gives us power to witness and to live the Christian life, and gives us spiritual gifts with which to serve the body of Christ (Titus 3:5, John 14:16-18, Romans 8:26, Romans 5:5, Acts 1:8, Romans 8:5-9, 1 Corinthians 2:4-12). He teaches, encourages, comforts, pleads for us and leads us into all truth (John 16:13, Acts 9:31, John 14:16, Romans 8:27).

Romans 8 tells us that allowing our minds to be controlled by the Holy Spirit is the key to "life and peace" (8:6) and experiencing victory over the sin that seeks to control us. As we continue our study of Romans, we will look at how we can appropriate the transforming power of the Holy Spirit in our lives.

1. a. How do the following sum up the end result of fighting sin in our own strength as believers?

Romans 7:21-23

b. The Spirit-controlled life is a life of abiding in Christ. What does Jesus tell us in John 15:5 about living the Christian life without the Spirit's control?

2. a. How do the following describe the three different types of people in the world?

natural person (without Christ): 1 Corinthians 2:14 worldly (carnal) Christian: 1 Corinthians 3:1-3 spiritual person controlled by the Holy Spirit: 1 Corinthians 2:15,16

b. What must we continually choose as Christians?

Romans 8:5

3. What did Jesus promise about the Holy Spirit?

John 14:16-17

John 14:26

4. What does the Holy Spirit produce in our lives?

Galatians 5:22-23

Acts 1:8

5. Why does God put His Spirit in our hearts?

Ezekiel 36:27

Ephesians 3:16-17a

Ephesians 1:13-14

6. Being controlled by the Holy Spirit is a command for the Christian.
How is this command stated in Ephesians 5:18?

Note: The analogy here with wine shows how being filled with the Spirit controls one's life as completely as alcohol does when one is drunk.

7. To appropriate the filling of the Holy Spirit, we must:

a. Confess any sin in our lives, claiming 1 John 1:9.

b. Present every area of our lives to God.

Romans 12:1-2

Note: body refers to all the areas and capabilities of our lives.

c. Ask God to fill us with His Spirit.

Luke 11:13

Summary

8. Are there areas in which you are struggling to be more Christlike? What hope is offered in this lesson? What one or two verses would you like to claim for your situation?

9. a. Have you ever imagined Christ living His life in you through the power of the Holy Spirit? What difference would it make in your home, workplace, neighborhood?

b. What is your prayer regarding the Holy Spirit and your life? If you have never asked Christ to fill, or control and empower you with His Spirit, perhaps you would like to ask Him for the first time now.

The following is a suggested prayer that you can pray daily:

*Lord Jesus, I acknowledge that I have tried and failed to live the Christian life in my own strength. Thank you that you have forgiven my sins through your death on the cross for me. I now invite you to take control of my life. Fill me with the Holy Spirit as you have commanded me to be filled and as you promise to do if I ask. Live your life through me, Lord, in the power of your Spirit. I pray this in the name of Jesus.
Amen.*

LESSON 9 NOTES

2 in the likeness of sinful man (8:3). God provided deliverance from sin by sending His own Son, not in sinful flesh but in the likeness of it. His human nature was protected and preserved from the indwelling principle of sin that has plagued all other human beings since Adam (cf. Luke 1:35)." Walvoord & Zuck, The Bible Knowledge Commentary, New Testament, p. 469.

3 to be a sin offering (8:3). "Jesus gave Himself as a sacrifice ('sin offering') for our sins. In Old Testament times, animal sacrifices were continually offered at the temple. The sacrifices showed the Israelites the seriousness of sin: blood had to be shed before sins could be pardoned (see Leviticus 17:11). But animal blood could not really remove sins (Hebrews 10:4). The sacrifices could only point to Jesus' sacrifice, which paid the penalty for all sins." NIV Life Application Bible, p. 2041.

4 sons of God (8:14). "God is the Father of all in the sense that He created all and His love and providential care are extended to all (see Matthew 5:45). But not all are His children. Jesus said to the unbelieving Jews of His day, 'You belong to your father, the devil' (John 8:44). People become children of God through faith in God's unique Son (see John 1:12-13), and being led by God's Spirit is the hallmark of this relationship." The NIV Study Bible, p. 1717.

5 if indeed we share in His sufferings (8:17b). The Greek construction here does not set up a condition but states a fact; i.e. we will suffer in this world as Christ did, then be glorified with Him.

Lesson 10

POWER FOR CHRISTIAN LIVING II

Romans 8:18-39

The believers at Rome would certainly experience great persecution, but Paul assures them that through the Holy Spirit's power, God makes us more than conquerors in the battle with evil in this world. Paul explains that all creation groans alongside believers in wait for Christ's return, when He will finally put an end to evil.¹ In the meantime, the Holy Spirit is always there to strengthen and guide us in our weaknesses and pray for us according to God's will when we do not know how to pray (8:26).

"If God is for us, who can be against us?" Paul proclaims. "He who did not spare His own Son, but gave Him up for us all--how will he not also, along with Him, graciously give us all things?" (8:32).

Who will condemn the believer? God does not, Paul declares. He justifies us. Jesus does not; He sits at the right hand of God praying for us (8:34). What's more, Paul proclaims, nothing "will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord" (8:38-39).

Romans 7 raised the question, "Is the Christian doomed to a life of defeat?" Romans 8 answers this question with an absolute "No!" With new life in Christ and the power of the Holy Spirit within, with God on our side and eternal life ahead, Paul declares that we are more than conquerors as we face the temporal struggles with evil in this world.

BUILDING ON THE BASICS

Transformed by God's Love

No more beautiful words can be said than "God loves you." This is a message we all, in our heart of hearts, need to hear. We need to know that God created us, with all that we would call imperfections, for loving purposes. He sees us, knows everything about us and still loves us.

This is the one of the underlying themes of Romans thus far. In spite of our sin, and even before we seek Him, God has made a way for us to realize and experience His love. In His infinite love, He sacrificed His own Son's life, and Jesus Christ gave His life willingly, to free us from the penalty for sin, which is separation from Him.

Not only this, but He provides freedom from the power of sin that still seeks to separate us from God's love. By identifying us with Christ's death and resurrection, He gives us new life as His own child and a new heart like Christ's. Then in love, God Himself makes His home in our hearts, placing His Holy Spirit there to empower us to experience victory as we fight for good in our lives and in the world around us.

"God is for us!" Paul declares. "Nothing can separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord" (8:31,39). The more we grasp this love, the more it transforms our hearts and lives.

Do you know God is for you? Do you know how much He loves you? As we continue our study of Transformation of the Heart, we will look at what God's Word says about His love for you and me.

1. a. Psalm 119:64 declares the "The earth is filled with your love, O LORD." Why is it that people are not experiencing God's love?

b. What are some of the results of not experiencing God's love?

c. How are we affected by an understanding of God's love?

2. What does God's Word reveal to us about His love?

Psalm 86:5

Psalm 103:8

Psalm 103:11-14

Psalm 103:17

3. a. What do you observe about God's love from the following?

John 3:16 (Romans 8:32)

b. The Scriptures tell us that God was in Christ, seeking to reconcile the world to Himself (Hebrews 1:3; John 14:9-10). What do you observe about God's love as reflected in the life of His Son?

John 10:11 (John 15:13)

Galatians 2:20c

Romans 8:34-35,39

4. a. God knows everything about us and still loves us immeasurably.

How is this reflected in:

Psalm 139:1-4

Psalm 139:13-16

Psalm 139:17-18

b. What aspects of God's unconditional love are reflected in

1 Corinthians 13:4-7?

5. The Bible describes the believer as "the Bride of Christ" (Revelation 19:7; 21:9). What is the Lord's commitment to you in Hosea 2:19-20a?

Summary

6. What have you learned about "the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord" from your study of Romans?

7. a. What concerns or challenges are you facing right now?
- b. Romans 8:31 declares, "God is for you!" What does this mean to you as you deal with the issues in your life today?
- c. "Christ Jesus...is interceding (praying) for you" (Romans 8:34; Hebrews 7:25). What does this mean to you as you face the challenges in your life?
- d. Why is it a comfort to you that nothing can separate you from God's love?
8. What does God's love motivate you to do for Him and for others?

LESSON 10 NOTES

1 Second coming of Christ. Before He was crucified (John 14:3; Matthew 24:30-31) and again after His resurrection (John 21:22), Jesus promised that He would return to earth. He taught that the time of this event, referred to as the day of Christ, or simply the Day, is known only by God (Mark 13:32). Jesus promised to return in person, with a body (Acts 1:11), and His coming will be visible and unmistakable, with great glory and majesty. When He comes, He will judge everyone (II Timothy 4:1) and usher in the glorious new world of righteousness and peace. Some believe there will be two returns of Christ, one in the Rapture (1 Thessalonians 4:17), the other after the great tribulation (Revelation 7:14). Others see all the references in the Bible to Christ's return as aspects of one single event at the end of history. The NIV Topical Study Bible, page 1075. References: Amos 8:3,9,13; 9:11; Micah 4:6; 5:9-15; II Thessalonians 1:6-10; Revelation 19:11-16; Acts 1:9-11.

2 will be liberated from its bondage to decay (8:21). The physical universe is not destined to be destroyed but renewed (see 2 Peter 3:13; Revelation 21:1), freed from death and decay with Christ's coming. See Note 1.

3 foreknew (8:29). "Some insist that the knowledge here is not abstract but is couched in love and mixed with purpose. They hold that God not only knew us before we had any knowledge of Him but that He also knew us, in the sense of choosing us by His grace, before the foundation of the world (see Ephesians 1:4; 2 Timothy 1:9). Others believe that Paul here refers to the fact that in eternity past God knew those who by faith would become His people.

predestined (8:29). Predestined here refers to moral conformity to the likeness of His Son.

that he might be the firstborn among many brothers (8:29). The reason God foreknew, predestined and conformed believers to Christ's likeness is that the Son might hold the position of highest honor in the great family of God." The NIV Study Bible, p. 1718.

4 face death all day long (8:36). "These words were written to a church that would soon undergo terrible persecution. In just a few years, Paul's hypothetical situations would turn into painful realities. This passage reaffirms God's profound love for His people. No matter what happens to us, no matter where we are, we can never be lost to His love. Suffering should not drive us away from God, but help us to identify with Him further and allow His love to reach us and heal us."

NIV Life Application Bible, p. 2043.
